Regular Events

Vine House – Last Weekend of Every Month

On the last weekend of each month we have the use of Vine House.

This gem in Mahurangi Harbour is a 2 km paddle from Sullivans Bay, which is the ARC park at the end of the Mahurangi West Road, first on the right past Puhoi.

The house sleeps 10 and has all creature comforts. Bring sleeping bag, pillow case and food. A shared meal and nibbles is the norm for Saturday night, so bring your goodies.

Lagoon Bay is very tidal, so bringing a kayak trolley is a good idea. The range of paddling is endless, eg Waiwera, Warkworth, Kawau Island, Motuora Island – your choice. Or just rest and read and enjoy this tranquil and special place. We recommend you take a carry bag to get all your gear up the track to the house. Secure parking is at Sullivans Bay. Leave a note on your dashboard reading “Vine House Volunteer” when you park in front of the ranger’s house.

Please ring to book a bed, and for detailed directions.
Trevor 817-7357, Matt 817-1984.

Saturday Morning Paddles

If you are into good coffee, good company and usually a leisurely paddle then these are the trips for you.

A small but growing group meet about 9:00am on Saturday mornings to paddle to one of the beaches – St Heliers, Kohimarama or Mission Bay for coffee.

Note: Paddlers under 18 to be accompanied by a guardian!

For more information, go to:

<http://www.mapmyrun.com/routes/view/127561>

Up-Coming Club Trips and Events

I want to say thank you to everyone for their support, enthusiasm and guidance since taking on the role of trip officer. To those who have volunteered ideas and offered to coordinate a trip, a special thank you.

Please keep these ideas flowing and my phone buzzing.

If anyone has trips they have always wanted to do but don't know how to go about it – we can find someone to co-ordinate for you or help you if you just need a bit of extra support. Just Get Involved – it's what makes it fun.

I would be interested to hear if people are keen on doing some moving water (river trips).

Car Sharing!

Due to the rising cost of fuel we should be smarter when going on Club trips. If you are interested in car sharing please contact the trip co-ordinator early to advise whether you are able to take another kayak or need a lift. This would enable the trip co-ordinator to put people in touch to share costs and/or driving.

Happy Paddling – Jackie

Saturday Morning Coffee Cruise

If you are into good coffee, good company and usually a leisurely paddle then this is the trip for you.

A small but growing group meet about 9:00am on Saturday mornings to paddle to one of the beaches – St Heliers, Kohimarama or Mission Bay for coffee.

Note: Paddlers under 18 to be accompanied by a guardian!

Tuesday Group

A group of retired kayakers (Colin, Rona, Mike & Peter) are meeting every Tuesday morning; you are welcome to join us. We decide what to do at breakfast time on Tuesday morning. If it's fine with light winds, we paddle, usually meeting at Kohimarama Beach at 9.30am. Destination Rangitoto, Browns Is or Motuihe. If it's too windy for kayaking, we cycle. Distance 30–40km, destination anywhere there's good coffee. We don't approve of rain, head winds, heavy traffic, battery chickens or the Republican Party.

Sometimes our trips last most of the day, sometimes just the morning. None of us want to get encumbered with organising these outings in advance, so they won't be advertised by email.

However if you would like to join us on a particular Tuesday then phone Colin Quilter 360 6271 between 7.00 and 8.00am on Tuesday morning.

Mid-November

Waitemata Canoe Club have suggested a joint kayaking venture on the upper Mohaka River. Plan would be to leave Friday lunch time for the long drive.

Not for Novice kayakers, need to be competent in grade 2 rapids. There is one grade 3 on this stretch of river. Rigid plastic boats only.

Sunday will paddle lower Mohaka (likely 2 runs).

I just want to gauge the clubs interest in arranging a trip like this.

So if interested or to discuss, please contact Jackie on 634 5042.

Good food, beer and a paddle in the moonlight

Jackie Hillman

We needed a full moon, a big tide and a favourable tide time to reach Riverhead Pub in time for dinner and get a return paddle with the outgoing tide.

The stars all aligned on 5th May. It was then fingers crossed that the weather gods would play nicely.

A group met by Christmas Beach at Herald Island at 4.30pm and set off apparently about 5pm. I was late getting there so the only evidence was the cars with empty kayak racks.

I pondered paddling in the fading light alone but looked at the glass like water conditions and decided being a whimp was not an option and set forth with my headlight on. I kept to the sides which at times was hard to pick out when passing small inlets. The noise of boat made me a little anxious and I saw it was a small ferry which I guessed had come from the pub. As soon as I rounded a bluff on the right about 45 minutes after heading off I could easily pick out the illuminated Riverhead Pub.

For those who have not visited recently they have made an impressive wharf, a bit high to easily exit a kayak but manageable. The collection of other boats indicated the others had arrived. I found them enjoying fine ales and wine and ordering their meals.

We had Trevor & Denise, Erica, Martin & Fiona, Clem, Matt, David, Murray and myself. A few had driven to the pub to meet us for dinner, including Martin Girling & Fiona. Their UK visitors enjoyed the paddle using the Club's double.

When we realised we were just about right for the return tide we left the warmth of the pub and found our boats. We were greeted by clear skies, the clouds had vanished and we were able to drift and slowly paddle back enjoying the most extraordinary kayaking conditions. Not a breath of wind, crisp enough to be comfortable so we didn't overheat and moonlight to illuminate our return trip.

In a word magical!

Hard to repeat this trip again with such conditions I suspect.

Many thanks to Trevor for coordinating the trip, and to everyone else for bringing such good humour and being great company.

More Racing

I have received murmurs of how club members are missing the racing opportunities the club offered in the past.

If there is a genuine interest in the club for racing then there is a possibility for Fergs Kayaks to run a time trial for sea kayaks alternate Sunday mornings. We can set the distance we would like paddle and they could arrange the timing.

Please contact Jackie – Trip Officer 09 634 5042 for expressions of interest.

Nothing to do Tuesday evenings?

If you want to practice a few paddle skills, maybe some rolling practice, then Auckland Uni Canoe Club has offered ACC members the chance to join them for informal session at Birkenhead pools, Mahara Avenue, Birkenhead.

Tuesday evenings. Sessions start at 7.30 pm. Best to arrive at 7.15 to get set up. Bring a spray skirt. The pool is heated but a thermal top is recommended. Pool charge $10 cash.

Do you remember Robert?

Peter Sommerhalder

Turning the clock back about 10 years (or is it longer?) we arrive at a time when the club was running skills courses, pool rolling sessions, and some of the fitter paddlers challenged each other in multisport events. One guy participating and enjoying the skill sessions was Robert Peachman. He gave anything a go, showed no fear and just never would give up. In recent years he has been missing from our canoeing events, because he and his mother moved away from Auckland to Omokoroa Estate near Tauranga.

This summer Su and I visited Robert and his mother, Nora, in their new home. They were most delighted to see us. In the years passed since our last get together, the Peachmans have hardly changed. In fact Robert has improved in his walking and moving, and is as bright as a button. His mother, now in her 80's and after having both hips and knees replaced, is still very mobile, but unfortunately no longer able to do extended tramping trips. Carrying a heavy pack on her back is no longer possible.

Robert was encouraged to take up paddling because a severe car accident restricted his mobility when he was 11 years old. He walked on a stick and one of his arms was deformed. With some practice and under supervision he soon learned climbing in and out of kayaks and came paddling with us. We took him out on club trips in a double. Eventually Robert bought his own Minnow and his mother took him often to Lake Pupuke. One of the highlights was a club trip down the Whanganui River in a double kayak. He wasn't too concerned when he capsized as he was buoyant and had no fear of the water; it was his paddling companions who were freaking out until he was safely back aboard.

He also had the opportunity to test his paddling skills on the Colorado River on a trip to America and Canada, where his brother lives. I remember Mrs Peachman telling us not to worry should Robert capsize, as he was a good swimmer. Well, we certainly had opportunities where he showed off his swimming and floating abilities. He always had a big grin on his face, as soon as his head broke the water surface. Never did we hear complaints about getting wet or cold from Robert.

Despite living close to the beach in Omokoroa, Robert has not been paddling because nobody in his neighbourhood is a paddler, or has the means to take him on the water. But he keeps himself busy with bowls. Other hobbies are weaving, computer skills and bird watching. He takes an active interest in the Auckland Canoe Club and was delighted when he became a Life Member before moving from Auckland to Omokoroa.

Good places to go for a cup of tea

Colin Quilter

It is widely accepted that the best thing about kayaking is stopping for a cup of tea. If the trip is with friends then there's the pleasure of discussing good books, recent movies, world affairs and the nature of the universe (in that order of importance); if it's alone then there's the pleasure of silent contemplation while waves lap on the shore and gulls wait patiently for a fragment of muesli bar.

Beaches suitable for a cup of tea share certain characteristics. They offer shade in summer but get the sun in the winter. They are protected from the wind. They are never crowded, so they are certainly not accessible by car and preferably not on foot. They should be not too close to one's launching point, nor too far; it's nice to paddle for an hour or so before stopping for tea.

Is it possible to spend a better morning than in paddling somewhere nice for a cup of tea, then paddling home again?

There's no shortage of cup-of-tea beaches in Auckland. But they are not obvious; in fact the best ones are hard to find, hidden away in forgotten corners of the harbour, un-noticed by impatient folk in a hurry to get somewhere else. So over the next few issues of the newsletter I'll describe a few of my favourites, beginning with one that you might already have paddled past without realizing it was there.

Cove in Coastguard Bay, on the west coast of Rangitoto

Where to go. This cove is hidden on the shore of the Rangitoto Channel. It's easy to miss, so pay attention to directions! You won't see this little place until you are right beside it. Let's assume you are paddling out from one of the Tamaki Drive beaches such as Kohimarama. You will head north towards the Rangitoto Channel. If the tidal current is outgoing (running in your favour), then you will probably stay well out in the channel, near the shipping lane, to gain the best of the current. If the tide is incoming (running against you), then you will cross to the south coast of Rangitoto (near the gull colony) and from there head NW staying close to the shore to keep out of the current. About 1.5km south of Rangitoto Lighthouse you will reach Coastguard Bay (more an indentation in the rocky coast than a bay), with an orange mooring buoy. Coastguard Bay has several small white-shell beaches which are conspicuous. Keep going past the mooring buoy and the shell beaches. Now there's a small headland, just a corner really, as you leave Coastguard Bay; and right on that corner is a tiny semicircular cove with a shell beach. The cove is protected from all winds except S and SW. There's shade beneath a pohutukawa at one end.

When to go. Only at high tide plus or minus two hours! At low tide a barrier of rocks makes access to the cove impossible. However if you misjudge the tide then you can use one of the white shell beaches in Coastguard Bay, (which also give easy access to the road for a walk to the summit).

The cove is an excellent destination when northerly winds are forecast. In these conditions McKenzie Bay, just to the north, will be rough and windy but our little cove will be perfectly calm. Moreover, you will have an easy run back to the city with a following wind.

Enjoy!

Poet's Corner

*A certain Mr Lear
Was born two centuries ago
He was present on his birthday
Though was much too young to know
But after that he grew a bit
And started writing verse
All nonsense it's perceived to be
It could have been much worse.*

*He wrote with quill and ink you know
While standing on his head
A runcible spoon held in his hand
Waiting to be fed
With oysters overjoyed at this
And honey from a cup
It's very hard to swallow
When the food is going up.*

*Now what you readers want to know
How come I'm talking thus
No sign of kayaks anywhere
So how come all the fuss
But wait a bit there's more to come
Of pussycats and owls
Of marriage oaths and piggy rings
Ecclesiastic fowls.*

*The boat in the verse was a pea green hue
And didn't have a paddle
So Cat and Owl to the kayak store
And bought a yellow double.*

*A year and a day was far too long
A couple of hours would do
They left the shore with some money in case
The owl with a uke to woo
His feline bride so beautiful
The moon was big and bright
Cat's eyes were full of hope and love
Owl thought well she'll be right.*

*Owl looked up to the sky above
And said to sweetheart Cat
Tonight's the night of the perigee moon
Cat said fancy that
She thought the owl was quite a babe
And made her thoughts be known
Let us be married although you're a bird
Objections overthrown.*

*They kayaked across to Rangī
To a beach of golden sand
With a sign that stated plain to see
No cats allowed to land
So she paddled off in a bit of a huff
Without a backward glance
Leaving Owl on the moonlit beach
Doing an owl-like dance.*

*Owl got wed to the Puke on the hill
That was to marry them both
No pig with a ring happened close by
To help them plight their troth.*

*And that you may think was the end of it
Well it is thank goodness you say
What happened to Cat on the homeward trip
Is a tale for another day.*

*For The Owl and the Pussycat, apologies and thanks to
Edward Lear b. May 12 1812*

Winter Lecture Series

The Auckland Canoe Club winter lecture series begins on Wednesday 20th June.

Venue Marine Rescue Centre located on the foreshore at the city end of Tamaki Drive.

Meet 7.00pm for a 7.30 start.

Colin Quilter will open this year's series.

Between Auckland and North Cape are 350km of the best sea-kayaking in the world. It's our own back yard; we should get out there more often than we do. In this talk I will describe a leisurely trip by kayak along the Northland coast – an old guy in an old boat – and identify campsites and locations which would make excellent starting points for future trips.

Please note. A new format this year. The Club will provide light snacks. Hot liquid refreshments will be available from the espresso vending machine in the foyer @ $3.

No door charge.

The winter lecture series is also the ideal place to catch up with fellow club mates. We encourage you to bring along family or friends. It is also a good time for newer members to network with some of the trip organisers.

President's Annual Report

Is it really a year since the last AGM!

They say that as one gets older the time seems to get by faster – well, I must be ancient as the year has flown by. I think all of us have found that the past year has been a busy one and that includes your committee members.

Again it is my sincere pleasure to thank all those hard working folk who keep your club running so well.

I know it is dangerous to single out individuals as others may feel they too should have had special mention, but I do want to highlight two of the committee who work so hard in the background and yet are seldom noticed...

Our newsletter editor, Claire O'Connor, is super efficient in preparing the newsletter each month and making sure that each of you are well informed about club activities – thank you Claire.

And secondly, someone who has been around for a long time, working hard in the background and seldom received the publicity he deserves. He organises the Winter lectures months in advance to ensure we have interesting speakers, organises the BBQs for the swim escorts and generally keeps me in line – a big thank you to Roger Lomas.

We have two members who have retired from the committee, Eddie de Vries, who has gone overseas – our former trips organiser, and Gerard Fagan who is taking a well earned rest from Committee affairs to concentrate on his fishing!

To the rest of the committee members, on behalf of all Club members I thank you for your hard work throughout the year.

The Auckland Canoe Club continues to hold a special place in the area of kayak safety. We have a great safety record and should be proud of it. This year we have again been donated a stand in the Discover Boating Centre at the Boat Show. I will talk more about this under general business.

I will also outline plans the committee have for training both theory and practice.

Lastly thank you to all members who make this club what it is.
